The winnings are over $50,000. In considering the amount close to $200,000. This is a remarkable showing for two horses to make.

In front of a large table on which was placed a beautiful rose set of French china dishes, and also a cut-glass water set. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Taylor were then sent for, and in the presence of his teammates Secretary Knowles, in a neat speech, presented Taylor and his bride with the presents which were gifts from the members of the club.

That Col. McLewee and "Diamond Jim" Brady Intend to go out of business is evident from the fact that they have informed Mark Allen, trainer for the stable, that he is at liberty to seek another engagement. Mr. Allen, while all always known as a first-class man at his business, has made a record for himself this season. The success of the stable has been entirely due to his able training methods which have enabled him to point his horses unerringly at all the big stakes for which they were eligible. He has kept them on edge all they exame the son's work as a recommendation.

trotted out Frank Kitson.
Pitcher Luther Taylor and his bride cLewee stable is a surprise. No reason put in an appearance at the grounds assigned, or, at least, none can be this afternoon and were warmly congratulated by the New York players.

After the game the Glants, wearing their uniforms, were called into the of-Graw's men, and imbued with the confidence of that victory they tackled Hanlon's outfit, determined to take another game from them.

The threatening weather kept the crowd down, there not being more than 1,500 persons present when the game started.

Capt. Smith after watching Cronin shoot his benders at Bowerman finally Farrel was disposing of Dunn at first. Cronin then slammed the bail on a line to left for a bag, sending Smith over the plate with the Giants' first run. Browne field for a sack promoting Cronin to second. Bresnahan sent a scorching grounder to Dahlen. who tossed the bail to Flood, forcing Browne at second, and on Flood's speedy throw to Farrell, Bresnahan was doubled up at first. One run.

Fourth Inning.

Farrell made his second safe hit, a neat single to left, for a bag. Flood tried the bunt act, but failed, Cronin's quick throw to McGann nipping him at first by inches. Irwin drew a base on balls, Ritter's bounder to Dunn forced Irwin at second, Farrell reaching third. Kitson's non fly over second was grabbed Brodle raised a pop fly to the in , which dropped into Farrell's mittann stole second easily, alled by Motiann stole second easily, alded here the second state of the Ritter's muff of Bowerman's strike Bowerman swung unsuccessfully a three inshoots. Lauder ended the in ning by sending a slow bounder to Dahlen. No runs.

Fifth Inning.

Sheekard made a neat bunt and easily reached the bag. Keeler pasted the ball to left, sending Sheekard to second. About thirty men took oart in the Dolan bunted and on Bowerman's wild throw to McGann Sheekard and Keeler secred, and as Bowerman failed to stop Smith's throw to the plate Dolan also crossed the rubber. Dahlen was thrown out by Smith. Farrell was retired by the same player, Flood was the third victim on his bounder to McGann. Three regular centre for the Indians this seater.
